

To support individuals who reside in their own homes or apartments in the completion of their activities of daily living.